SIR KINGSFORD SMITH LANDED IN HONOLULU

British Aviator Completes Difficult Ocean Flight

Honolulu, Oct. 29—(AP)—Wing Commander Sir Charles Kingsford Smith landed at Wheeler Field, (1:10 P. M. CST) at Wheeler Field, army airbase completing his second successful nonstop flight between Hawaii and Fiji.

With Captain P. G. Taylor, his navigator, Sir Charles, who in 1928 ascended the world by flying from Oakland to Sydney, Australia, took off from Fiji at 6:05 A. M. Suva time (12:05 P. M. Sunday CST).

The Lady Southern Cross roared out of the southeast today as dawn broke over Hawaii and struck at Hawaiian archipelago and ship at the island of Molokai.

From there he swung northward to land at Wheeler Field, army air base, a score of miles from here.

Thanked Assistants

Just before then he messaged his change of course for the last 80 miles of the flight and said he was feeling in his radio antenna, and thanked all radio stations for their patience with a rotten operator.

At 8:30 A. M. Honolulu time (1 P. M. CST) he hovered over Honolulu on his way to Wheeler Field.

With Captain Taylor, the famed Australian aviator in 24 hours 50 minutes reversed his previous flight with three companions—the flip that won him a gold medal.

As the monoplane, flying low over Molokai Channel, rose over Diamond Head, the sentinel of Honolulu, harbor craft unloosed their whistles. In less time than it takes to tell, the ship shot over Honolulu the veteran pilot heading directly for Wheeler Field.

JONES-WALLER DOWN

London, Oct. 29—(AP)—Cathcart Jones and Ken W. Waller landed at Allahabad at 9:55 A. M. G. M. T. today after a flight from Singapore. They said they would not take a flight toward England again until tomorrow morning.

The fliers reached Singapore nonstop from Port Darwin, Australia, yesterday, covering the 2,084 miles in less than 11 hours, averaging 201.7 miles an hour.

A delay at Port Darwin badly hurt their chance of beating the time of 70 hours, 59 minutes and 25 seconds made last week from England to Melbourne by W. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black.

Eight of the original 19 starters from Milderham airdrome in the Melbourne Derby still have to reach that city.

D. E. and K. G. Stodart of England, reached Charleston, Australia, but 787 miles from Melbourne, Lieut. M. Hansen of Denmark arrived at Port Darwin after a flight across the Timor Sea, while J. D. Hewitt and C. E. Kay of New Zealand were delayed at Cloncurry, Australia, when their machine was damaged on the take-off.

C. J. Melrose of Australia reached Port Darwin yesterday after a flight over the Timor Sea. His gasoline supply was exhausted and he said, "I couldn't have gone another foot."

FLIER FORCED BACK

Ympyne Airdrome, England, Oct. 29—(AP)—Colonel James C. Fitzmaurice returned to Ympyne today three hours after he had taken off in an attempt to establish a new speed record to Australia.

A piece of the shield on the under-carriage of his plane had fallen off.

Chivalrous Chicago Man and $1000 Fur Coat Being Sought

Chicago, Oct. 29—(AP)—Chivalry was not dead in Chicago today, out it was eluding police.

Last night, police were told, a redheaded young lady and her escort stopped in front of a furrier's. The first winter cold snap had them shivering.

"Baby, you won't be cold long," police were told the escort said as he huddled a brick through the furrier's show window.

A. & P.'S LABOR TROUBLES MOVE TO MILWAUKEE

All of Firm's Stores in Cleveland Closed After Dispute

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The doors of 300 A. & P. stores in the Cleveland area stayed closed today.

Cleveland's jobless increased by approximately 2,200 at the closing order, given, the company said, because of "labor trouble."

Former employees of the stores called on President Roosevelt to intervene in the dispute over their operation. The President referred their telegram to the national labor relations board.

A Milwaukee meat cutters' strike began in 47 chain stores, after the A. & P. in Milwaukee closed 26 of its meat departments.

Given By Federation

The strike order, given by American Federation of Labor unions, affected 38 A. & P. stores and nine stores of the Kroger Grocery & Baking Company. It had no effect in Racine.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said he would begin an inquiry into labor's differences with the A. & P. Green, in a statement last night, fixed the number of unemployed in September as 843,000 greater than a year ago and stressed "the urgency of an immediate Federal program to put men back to work in industry."

RACE FOR STATE TREASURER MOST HOTLY BATTLED

Republicans Hope to Regain Position Thru Stratton

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29—(AP)—It was through the state treasurer's office that the Democrats got their foothold in the state house in 1930. By the same manner, the Republicans are trying to come back politically.

The result is that the most important two-man race in the November election campaign is between John Stelle, McLeansboro Democrat, and William J. Stratton, Ingleside Republican, the rival candidates for state treasurer.

Stratton was secretary of state during the last Republican administration. He polled the highest vote in his party's 1932 defeat.

Barrett's Assistant

Stelle, running for his first office, is assistant state auditor, and has served as assistant state treasurer, working in both jobs under Edward J. Barrett, the Democrat whose election as state treasurer was the surprise of the 1930 campaign.

In Illinois politics, the treasurer's office is the chief prize of the off-year campaigns. This race traditionally draws more attention than that for superintendent of public instruction, the only other state house office being decided this year.

The treasurer has a two-year term and cannot succeed himself. The incumbent is usually in line for future political promotion, which for Barrett was the auditorship. John Martin of Salem, the present treasurer, is slated to become chairman of the state tax commission.

Race Watched Closely

It is because of this situation that the politicians are closely watching the Stratton-Stelle fight, with the knowledge that a good showing by the victor would entitle

Application Blanks for Motor Licenses Have Been Sent Out

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29—(AP)—Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes today began distribution of application blanks for 1935 automobile licenses.

He also called attention to the fact that car owners who desired reassignment of the license number to make application by December 1. The application blanks have been sent to city and county clerk's offices and others. He expects to begin distribution of the plates about Dec. 6.

Three Young Women Pledge Selves to Unending Efforts to Find Two Murderers of Protector Last Eve

Chicago, Oct. 29—(AP)—Three young women, saddened by the fate of the man who gave his life protecting them, pledged themselves today to unending efforts to track down the hoodlums who shot him.

With police in squad cars they combed the city yesterday, helping round up suspects. Two scores were seized, and a hundred others in custody on other charges were paraded before the women, but they

T. J. MILLER IS CALLED TO HIS REST IN NIGHT

Pioneer Businessman and Civic Leader Passes Away

Theodore J. Miller, Sr., one of Dixon's best loved citizens and pioneer business man, passed away at his home, 203 Everett street, at 12:15 Sunday morning, his death terminating an illness of over a six months period. He came to Dixon in 1873 and entered into business as a music dealer in which he established a reputation which extended throughout this section as his business grew to rank as one of the largest in the central west.

Mr. Miller was born Sept. 5, 1847, in Somerset county, Pa., and at the age of 16 enlisted in Company K, 5th Pennsylvania heavy artillery, in which he served until the conclusion of the Civil War. He retired from business life in December, 1920. He was a member of Dixon post, G. A. R., several of the local Masonic bodies, including Dixon Commandery, Knights Templar, and for a period of years was one of the more active members of the Baptist church where he served as deacon for several years.

A Foremost Citizen

He took an active interest in the business life and progress of the city and was one of its foremost citizens. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary C. Miller and the following children: Mrs. Grace Conibear, Hugh Ray, Mrs. Frank B. Wilson, Guy, Ezra and Freepert and Theodore J. Jr. and Mrs. Lucille of this city. One daughter, Mrs. Maude Taylor preceded him in death. Seven grandchildren, two great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews also survive.

Mr. Miller was the last member of his immediate family.

Funeral services, which will be private, will be conducted from the residence Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and Rev. Walter W. Marshall will conduct services at 2:30 from the First Baptist church. Interment will be in Oakwood.

Where members of the Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion will compose the firing squad at the grave.

20-MONTH OLD CHILD RESCUED FROM DEEP WELL

Belleville Babe Unharmed by Fall Into Dry Shaft

Belleville, Ill., Oct. 6—(AP)—Bobby, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stephenson of Belleville, was safely home today after being rescued by firemen and volunteer diggers from the bottom of a dry well where he spent nearly six hours.

Bobby fell into the abandoned well, at a clubhouse, near New Memphis, Ill., yesterday afternoon. His mother saw him fall through the narrow opening, covered with leaves and debris and disappear into the 30-foot-deep hole.

Firemen were summoned from Belleville and volunteers of the Belleville rescue squad were called. As oxygen was pumped to the child and hot water bottles lowered to warm him, a counter-shaft was dug.

The rescuers then tunneled over to the well to reach the imprisoned child, who was brought forward unharmed except for a few scratches.

Illinois Legion in Drive to Eradicate Communistic Action

Chicago, Oct. 29—(AP)—Prompted by reports of alleged Communist activity recently, the Illinois Legionnaire, publication of the state American Legion, plans an intensive Americanism campaign in November. A speech by Paul G. Armstrong, department commander, will be carried throughout the state by sound news reels, and newspapers, radio and billboards will also be used, it was announced by Harlow Hellstrom, executive secretary of the Illinois Legion, who will direct the drive.

W. WATERBURY, H. CHEESEMAM, POLO, ARE DEAD

Grim Angel Entered Two Homes in Ogle Over Week End

(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, Oct. 29—Harvey Cheesman passed away very suddenly Saturday night at 11:15 at his home 5 miles southeast of Polo. He was in apparent good health and with Mrs. Cheesman had dined at a dinner and visited in Polo during the evening. Shortly after retiring Mrs. Cheesman had attended a dinner at a physician, but he expired before the physician arrived, death being attributed to a sudden heart attack.

Mr. Cheesman was born in Colo, Iowa, Feb. 6, 1871, and when a small boy came to the vicinity of Eagle Point where he resided until 19 years ago when the family removed to their present home. He was united in marriage, Feb. 22, 1900 to Ethel Schryver who survives him, with one son, Russell at home, one daughter, Miss Vera of Rockford, a sister, Mrs. Milton Olmstead, a brother James of Milledgeville and a nephew, Robert Buchanan of near Hazelhurst. Funeral services will be conducted from the family residence at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon and at 2 o'clock from the Brick church. Rev. Clinton Stauffer officiating and interment will be in the adjoining cemetery.

William Waterbury passed away Sunday morning at 2 o'clock at the home of his brother, Charles Waterbury on South Division street, death resulting from a lingering illness with complications. He was born in Missouri, March 27th, and came to the vicinity of Polo when a boy, where he has since resided. Funeral services will be conducted from the home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. W. Marlow, pastor of the Christian church officiating and with interment in Fairmount.

Oklahoma Cemetery Bears Scars of an Outlaw's Funeral

Sallisaw, Okla., Oct. 29—(AP)—The little country cemetery of Sallisaw today bore the scars of an outlaw's funeral.

Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd was buried there yesterday. The 20,000 persons who came to the funeral of the desperado who was slain by Federal agents in Ohio, trampled graves, crushed flowers, overturned footstools and left sagging fences in their wake.

Motor cars in the 10-mile cortege represented 20 states.

In the large crowd there were few tears for the slain outlaw. His mother was dry eyed as was the rest of the family including the widow and his 9-year-old son.

Wednesday Holiday in Chicago to Mark Closing of Big Fair

Chicago—(AP)—Rushing the World's Fair for a last visit before it closes Wednesday night, 248,737 persons, a new record Sunday crowd for the season, poured through the gates, raising the total attendance this year to 15,678,235. To help the fair realize its goal of 16 million visitors necessary to pay off all indebtedness, Mayor Edward Kelly ordered the closing of all schools and public offices Wednesday afternoon.

Wills of Two Lee Co. Citizens are Filed for Probate

Two wills were filed for probate before Judge Leach in the county court this morning.

The will of the late David Burkhardt of Sublette dated Sept. 20, 1933 was admitted to probate, naming a son Leo executor. The widow, Mrs. Mary Burkhardt is given the use of the income from the estate for the period of her life time. The instrument provides that three years following her demise, the executor reduce the entire estate to cash, under which provision, the following bequests are made: a son Godfred to receive two-twelfths, a daughter, Christine Michel, five-twelfths and the son Leo, five-twelfths.

The will of the late Sarah E. Johnson, bearing date of Aug. 31, 1934 and naming Robert H. Howell, executor, was filed for probate today. The instruments provides for the setting aside of a sum of $100 to be used for the perpetual upkeep of the lot in Oakwood cemetery, and the remainder of the estate is left to Amelia J. Reed and in the event of her demise to her husband, George J. Reed. Personal property of the value of $1,200 is listed.

FATHER OF KID-NAPER CAN NOT BE EXTRADITED

Robinson, Sr. Alleged Conspirator, Wins in Court

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 20—(AP)—U. S. Commissioner Julian Campbell ruled today that Thomas H. Robinson, Sr., may not be removed to Louisville for trial on charges linking him with the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll.

"From all the facts before me," Commissioner Campbell said in a prepared opinion, "I find not only that there is no probable cause to believe Thomas Henry Robinson, Sr., guilty, but no fact to reasonably believe a suspicion of his guilt."

The opinion added: "The government admits that this defendant is only sought for trial at Louisville, Ky., on what he did or might have done before the actual kidnaping as a conspirator."

"It results that it is my duty to refuse to order defendant Thomas H. Robinson, Sr., held for removal. Let the defendant be discharged."

EX-FINANCIAL ADVISOR HITS AT PRESIDENT

James Warburg of New York Quotes Socialists, Communists

Skytop, Pa., Oct. 29—(AP)—James P. Warburg, New York banker and one-time financial advisor of the Roosevelt administration, today visioned the key to further economic recovery as a clear statement by the government "of its basic principles" and particularly its monetary objectives.

The banker, vice chairman of the Bank of the Manhattan Company, New York, told the Robert Morris Associates, a national organization of bank loaning officers, that government mastery of money and credit machinery actually would constitute "socialization of the whole state."

He cited Socialism by Lenin and G. D. H. Cole, British Socialist, in proof that both Communists and Socialists urge nationalization of banks and credit as the first step in their efforts to gain control.

Picturing this control of money and credit as leading to a dictatorial form of government, he declared a "very much reduced standard of living, if not national bankruptcy" would result.

The banker, who assailed the NRA and the present government trends in a caustic speech last Wednesday in Philadelphia, expressed gratification with the "favorable outcome" of the American Bankers Association convention later in the week, following an address by President Roosevelt on Thursday.

Says "Brains" Alone Cannot Lift Nation Out of Its Plight

Chicago, Oct. 29—(AP)—Dr. Walter A. Maier, professor in Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, addressing a meeting of Lutherans here yesterday, asserted that "brains" alone cannot lift the nation out of its plight.

"We have taken our refuge in brains," he declared, "but the choicest intellects in the 300,000,000 pounds of American brains have left us helpless. We have tried everything—except the Bible."

NRA Compromises With Taylor Firm

Baltimore, Oct. 29—(AP)—What was regarded as one of the most important legal attacks upon the NRA was ended today by dismissal of a suit of L. Greif & Brothers, men's clothing manufacturers, after an agreement between the company and NRA had been reached.

Attorneys told the court the agreement was satisfactory to the company "without our in any way admitting the constitutionality of the national recovery act or the men's clothing code."

Two Young Men Instantly Killed, Third Seriously Injured, Sunday Morn When Car Hits Emerson Bridge

Alfred Doming 25, and Archie Joseph 26, both of Chicago, were instantly killed and Clyde Stone, 27, Chicago postal employee, was critically injured at about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, when Joseph's new Ford V-8 sedan, driven by Stone, crashed into the end of the Emerson bridge over Elkhorn creek, about four miles west of Sterling.

The car was almost completely demolished by the collision, which occurred at a high rate of speed. At a Sterling hospital, to which Stone was taken, it was reported his injuries consisted of a fractured skull, concussion on the brain and numerous cuts.

The young men were enroute to Morrison, where Stone and Joseph formerly resided, to spend the week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. Alice Stone, who conducts a millinery store in the Whiteside county seat.

ACTION TODAY BIG SURPRISE FOR DEFENSE

Last Testimony Was Concerning "Fictitious Earnings"

Federal Court, Chicago, Oct. 28 (AP)—The government today rested its case in the trial of Samuel Insull and his 16 co-defendants, accused of mail order fraud in the collapse of the $150,000,000 Cotation Securities Company of Chicago.

The end of the government's presentation of evidence came with dramatic suddenness as Dwight H. Green, United States District Attorney, completed a reading to the jury of the minutes of the last meeting of the Corporation Securities Company in which it was unanimously voted not to fight the petition of Frank B. Schoenman for the appointment of a receiver for the company.

Defense Surprised

The defense was taken by surprise by the government's sudden action. Before the opening of the day's session Green had said that he hoped to be through with his case by Wednesday but that he expected the defense to devote most of the day to a cross-examination of Harold Huling, government accountant.

The government completed its case at 10:37 A. M. 27 days after the start of the trial.

The last government witness was Dr. Roy B. Kester, professor of accounting at Columbia University. After stating among his qualifications that he was a certified public accountant, the author of many text books on accounting, a contributor to the Encyclopedia Britannica and was listed in Who's Who, he was questioned by Leslie E. Salter, special assistant to the Attorney General.

Fictitious Earnings

"What would be the effect on earnings accounts if stock dividends were taken on the books of a company as income?" Salter asked.

"It would result in showing fictitious earnings,"

Dr. Kester's testimony was designed by the government to uphold charts it presented last Friday and Saturday showing that the company had actually suffered losses in 1929 and 1930 when the company's reports showed net earnings.

Britten Accuses Foreign Nations of Breaking Faith

Chicago, Oct. 29—(AP)—Rep. Fred A. Britten, Illinois, former chairman of the House Naval Affairs committee charged in a debate here last night that foreign countries have broken faith on disarmament.

"As the Harding disarmament conference we gave our word and scrapped $70,000,000 worth of fighting ships. And what have foreign nations done ever since but build, build and build?" he asked.

Clark Eichelberger, director of the League of Nations Association, New York, replied that armament construction bred only suspicion, never peace, and expressed the opinion that a group of international jurists sitting somewhere in July, 1914, could have prevented the World War.

'Egypt' Reported Two Fatal Traffic Crashes on Sunday

Murphysboro, Ill., Oct. 29—(AP)—A hit-and-run truck driver was sought today following the death of Ed Stapleton, 26, Granite City, Ill., who was struck and fatally injured on a highway west of here Saturday night.

Stapleton identified by an uncashed check in one of his pockets, died forty minutes after being taken to a hospital.

Monsanto, Ill., Oct. 29—(AP)—Orlan Gaves, 22, Maplewood Park, Ill., attempting to push his stalled automobile to the side of the road was killed yesterday when another machine crashed into the car. John Welch Monsanto, his wife and Mrs. Gaves, who were in the automobile were not injured.

Marked Increase in Family Relief This Winter is Foreseen

Chicago—(AP)—A prediction that the family relief burden will mount to a new peak this winter in Illinois, despite an increase in employment during the past year, was made by Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission. Increases in employment are being drawn largely from those not on relief, he said, and others without jobs are exhausting their savings and being forced to seek public aid.

MILK PRICE
Due to prevailing unusual conditions it is impractical for the Borden Company to announce in advance the price it will pay for fluid milk direct ratio.

Therefore, until further notice the price for fluid milk will not be delivered and accepted. The price will be published within five (5) days after the period for which the company will have heretofore announced until after said milk is delivered at the advance.
The price for milk delivered in the first 15 days of October is $1.294 per cwt for 4 per cent milk delivered and accepted.

INSANE SLAYER OF TWO GIVEN A NEW HEARING
Colorado Court Has Criticism for the Trial Jurist

Denver, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Colorado Supreme Court today granted Charles Elijah Graham, 40-year-old axe slayer, a retrial because the trial judge did not follow his own judgment and declared Graham insane after a jury convicted him of murder.
Graham, a former resident of Alton, Ill., was convicted of the axe slaying of Mrs. Verlie Glazier and George Morris last January 14, at Grand Junction, and was sentenced to die in Colorado's lethal gas chamber by District Judge George W. Bruce.
Three alienists reported Graham insane and three Western Slope physicians testified he was mentally deranged.
In sentencing him, Judge Bruce said he was convinced Graham was insane but that as the jury had found him guilty of first degree murder he had no alternative but to sentence him to die.

ADVANCE AGENT OF WINTER HAS STARTED TOUR
Many Parts of United States Shiver in Chill Blasts
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Blustering advance agents of winter invaded sections of the east and south today.
At least six ships suffered in storms off the Atlantic coast; fears were felt for the safety of two men missing in an open boat off the Maine coast, and storm warnings told of high winds and gales from Boston to Hatteras.
Snow fell frequently early today in eastern Pennsylvania, covering the Pocono mountains with a coat of three to four inches. There were flurries yesterday in parts of New Jersey, New York, New England and Ontario.
Temperatures dropped to freezing yesterday in Maine and as low as 28 in upstate New York. They reached 37 in New York City and the weather bureau predicted they would fall to 30 today—the first freezing weather of the season for the metropolitan area.
In the south, the mercury ranged in the thirties and forties, with a mark of 32 at Wytheville, Va. Weather bureau officials warned many southern communities today that it would be "very much like winter."
Walter Chandler, 30, and Lewis Chandler, 25, missing since Saturday morning in a 26-foot motor boat, were sought off Vinalhaven, Maine.

KEEP MILITIA ON DUTY TODAY IN DIXIE TOWN
Authorities Continue Precautions to Prevent Mob Attacks

Marianna, Fla., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A company of guardsmen, manning machine guns from the courthouse doorway, remained on duty today to check any further mob violence. The guardsmen were called here as the result of the lynching of a negro and of threats against a white man, who is charged, slew a deputy sheriff.
One company of guardsmen was ordered back to Panama City last night.
An investigation has been started of the lynching. The victim, Claud Neal, was hanged and mutilated after confessing the criminal assault and beating to death of a white girl.
At the court house, guardsmen awaited the scheduled sentencing of Buford Mears and M. F. Dudley, two men convicted of the recent bank robbery at Malone.
Precaution was taken against possible violence centering about Mears, said by Sheriff W. C. Chambliss to have shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Don Hamm who was aiding the sheriff to transfer the two convicted bank robbers to the Quincy jail after they had been found guilty.

HOME CRAFTERS PLAN AID FOR GOODFELLOWS
Will Soon Start Making Toys for Poor Children Here

A meeting of the Dixon Homecrafters club has been called for Wednesday evening of this week for the purpose of outlining important plans for the making of toys to be donated to the Goodfellows for distribution to Dixon children at Christmas time. The members of the club made more than 400 toys last year which went to make many kiddies happy at the Christmas season. It is the plan to make a greater number this year and work is to be started on the program as early as possible.
At the meeting of the club last Thursday evening the first of fall-winter season, a good attendance was present and a great deal of interest was shown. This was the annual meeting of the organization and a great deal of interest was manifest in the report of activities of the past year. Officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows:
President, Arnold Schultz.
Vice Pres., Charles Roundy.
Sec.-Treas., Eric W. Gerdes.
Librarian, Murray Wentling.
Board of Governors, Robert Warner, Clyde Emmert, Fernanda Coskley.

Traveling Around America

The parrot, until the days of his captivity, belonged to the chattering colony inhabiting the gorgeous jungles of the interior. Although he is reduced to exchanging small talk with the boys on the streets his ancestors probably discussed world affairs, for it was through their jungle home that the conquerors of the New World cut the old trail across sections to the Pacific, from which he set out southward in search of the "hill of gold," a voyage which resulted in his discovery of Peru. The route followed later by Pizarro when he carried his ships in sections to the Pacific, from which he set out southward in search of the "hill of gold," a voyage which resulted in his discovery of Peru. AP PREPARING FOR BIG TASK NOVEMBER 6th

Covering of the Election Means Lots of Work for News Men
Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—All facilities of the far-flung Associated Press in Illinois will be utilized November 6, to collect and tabulate the off-year election vote. Through this service, readers of The Telegraph will know Tuesday night who was elected. Without The Associated Press election returns, it would be days before the actual results would be known.
There is romance in news gathering and writing and when the staff and member papers of The Associated Press turn to the enormous job of vote gathering and counting, everyone gets just as big a kick out of it.
From Galena on the north, to Cairo at the southwest tip of the state, and across the prairies to the western limits of Illinois, Associated Press member newspapers have created an efficient, high-speed organization that swings into high gear as soon as the polls close at 5 P. M. There is not a spot in Illinois where an Associated Press representative will not be on hand to gather election returns and speed them to tabulation headquarters.
From 7,350 precincts in Illinois, and returns will be collected from every one of them. The returns will be poured into a half dozen cities, located strategically, sorted and consolidated at these points and then sped to the Chicago office of The Associated Press where a staff of especially trained tabulators will count them. From the tabulators' tables, the figures are rushed to the wires for transmission, supplemented by stories written by a battery of re-write men.
This same thing will be done in every state by The Associated Press and results of important contests involving the new deal and other issues will be made available to readers of The Telegraph.

him to a prominent place when the 1934 tickets are arranged. Both candidates have been campaigning extensively but without introducing many new issues. Stelle has cited his state house experience and asked for a continuance of Democratic state and national officials. Stratton has proclaimed high efficiency when he was Secretary of State and joined in the Republican attacks upon the Democratic officials, in which the slogan has been, "elect Stratton to watch Horner".

Personalities have not been involved in the campaign. The only other state office involved in the campaign is the only one in which a Republican now sits. It is that of state superintendent of public instruction, filled for 28 consecutive years by Francis G. Blair of Charleston, who is running against John A. Wieland of Calumet City.

A Pint of Milk A Day for Every Needy Child

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29—"A pint of milk a day for every needy child" is the aim of a drive by the Child Welfare and Community Service Divisions of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, whose members recently concluded a Milk Survey under the direction of the Consumers' Council of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. This survey, which was requested of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace by a Committee of women from 12 national organizations, showed that an average of only one-sixth of a pint of fresh milk per capita was purchased daily by the 29,485 families in 59 cities of 46 states which came under the investigation.

The success of milk projects undertaken by individual clubs in the past is cited by the leaders of the present campaign as an illustration of what can be done in other communities. Club women of Buffalo worked out a cooperative plan with the Civic Health League and the milk dealers of the city, whereby undernourished children in some 20 schools were supplied daily with fresh milk. The women were at the schools every morning during the recess period to distribute to designated children the milk which had been provided by dealers at the lowest possible price. A $15,000 milk fund raised by the Teachers' Association paid for the milk for children who were unable to give even a penny, while those able to pay contributed one cent a cup. The willingness of people to give to milk funds raised by club women was demonstrated by Bergen County, New Jersey, where $100 was contributed in a small village of relatively poor inhabitants. A mill owner in the county who had refused to give a cent to the Mayor's Relief Committee, contributed $1,000 to the milk fund. Experience has proved that the funds established by women's clubs over a period of two years are still flourishing, while those started by other groups, temporarily organized, functioned for a brief period only. There is no overhead, as the women do all the work themselves. Sometimes the milk is distributed by the local milkman to the families reported by social service and private sources. "Milk Fund Week" has proved successful in some communities.

The survey also showed that 14 per cent of the families investigated ought to have fresh milk at all, and purchases of evaporated milk by the family of average to low incomes amounted to 61 of a small can per week. The average purchases of both fresh and evaporated milk were very low as compared with the "adequate diet at minimum cost" which furnishes a margin of safety and calls for approximately one and one-half pints per person per day, while purchases were more than 27 per cent below the quantity of milk specified by the "restricted diet" which is so low that it is unsafe to subsist on it for more than a limited period. This diet calls for an average of 8 per cent a pint per capita per day.

Luncheon Honors Mrs. Earngey

Saturday Mrs. Lillian Benjamin of 304 Peoria avenue entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon in honor of Mrs. Fanny Earngey of Long Beach, Cal. Mrs. Earngey was once a well known Dixonite, widow of the late much beloved President Elder and a former pastor of the Dixon Methodist church. It is about eight years since Mrs. Earngey visited Dixon. Following are the guests and old friends who greatly enjoyed Mrs. Benjamin's hospitality and her charming guest—Mrs. C. B. Morrison, Mrs. Walter Worthington, Mrs. Burt Curtis, Mrs. Florence Noble Hopkins, Mrs. H. A. Ahrens, Mrs. J. S. Hauser, Miss Jennie Laing.

Halloween Party At Stultz Home

The Misses Mabel and Lucille Stultz entertained at a Halloween party Saturday evening. Stunts and games appropriate to Halloween were much enjoyed by all. Miss Margaret Whitebread was awarded the prize for the best costume for the girls and Harry Slain, the one for the boys. Popcorn ball and apples were served during the evening and at a late hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, after which the guests departed, all voting the party a great success. Those present were Helen and Ethel Cline, Margaret Whitebread, Jack and James Burke, Marvin Fane, Harry Slain and Harry and Albert Whitebread.

First Ladies Don't Waste Words

Although separated by only a few feet at the opening of the annual Girls Scouts Convention in Boston, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, present and past first ladies of the land respectively, failed to show any signs of friendship, their conversation being limited to essential courtesies. Mrs. Roosevelt, shown seated at the left of Mrs. Frederick Eide, national president, succeeded Mrs. Hoover (right) as the honorary head of the Girl Scouts.

before retiring and moving to town with his family, delights now in raising choice vegetables and lovely flowers as did his wife, who passed away a few years ago. The neighbors of the Harms family always shared in the flowers and many of the vegetables raised.

Guests Honored; Party Saturday

Miss Carrie Kreger and Richard Belcher, whose wedding will be an event of the near future, were the honored guests at an informal party given by Miss Frances Bills at her home Saturday. The evening was delightfully spent playing "Hearts." Light refreshments were served.

The bride-to-be was presented with some lovely Pistoria ware.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

When to Exclude

The control of communicable disease would be much easier than it is if we could name a disease as soon as the first symptoms appear or if we were always right when we say "Oh, it's only a cold." But, unfortunately, such isn't the case. Sniffles appear, or maybe a cough or sore throat come first. The child may not complain, but if he is irritable, unusually quiet, and not interested in play, something is wrong. What is it? The only chance of a fair guess is when we know that the child has been in contact with a known diagnosed case. Otherwise, those early signs and symptoms may mean anything.

That is why it is so essential to avoid taking chances. One case may start an epidemic with disastrous results. It is no time to guess. Only one safe and sane course is open to the school, and that is immediate exclusion of every pupil showing any deviation from normal health. It pays to be over careful at such times. Attendance records are of no importance when child health, maybe a life, is at stake.

Next week Dr. Ireland will write about the importance of milk and other protective foods in promoting the growth of children.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The evangelistic campaign will commence next Monday, Nov. 5th with Dr. Frank H. Harrington of Ravenswood Baptist church, Chicago as the evangelist. He will be assisted by Rev. Ralph E. Gronseth of Marengo, who will lead the singing. Children's services will be held on the Tuesdays and Fridays at 4 P. M. The meetings will conclude on Friday, Nov. 16th.

Dr. Farrington is a graduate of Howard College and Louisville. He was reared on a southern plantation and has had wide pastoral experience. He has been superintendent of Missions in Birmingham, Ala. He came to work with the Central Y. M. C. A. College some years ago and was called to his present church in Feb. 1933. He was our special preacher at the Young People's summer camp at Franklin Grove this year where he won the love and esteem of all the young people.

He has a strong and forceful personality and is definitely evangelical in his preaching. We are praying and believing that God is going to give us a mighty time of blessing while Dr. Farrington and Rev. Gronseth is in our midst. The prayer meeting will be at 7:15 P. M. and the gospel service at 7:30 P. M. every evening. We extend a hearty invitation to come and hear these gifted men preach the gospel.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ITEMS

Bible school attendance yesterday was 293. The adult classes reported attendance as follows: Frilohas, 41; Upstreamers, 40; Men, 33; Young Men, 32; True Blue, 25; Young People, 11. In the absence of superintendent and assistant superintendents, Bro. Barnett conducted the opening and closing exercises.

The Christian Endeavor Society went visiting to the Kingdom society last evening and held a joint meeting with them.

Several families who attend regularly were out of the city yesterday.

It was encouraging to see the fine attendance at the evening service.

The Friloha class is protecting a Halloween party Tuesday evening at which the Young Men's class are to be guests. The young folks will meet at the home of Miss Leone Orr, 402 Monroe Ave. at 7:30 and will go from there to the Lennox home in the country, and other places.

The Young People's class are also planning a Halloween party for Tuesday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Bend, 320 Spruce St. Those wishing transportation meet at the church at 7:30.

Scout Troop No. 89 are planning special features with their meeting Tuesday night at the church. It will be parents' night and all interested will be welcome.

The Ladies Aid Society will hold an all day meeting Wednesday.

Prayer meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening. The Bible study will be the last two chapters of 1 John.

The Women's Missionary society will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. C. B. Rhodes, 216 West Chamberlain St.

I Know I Shall be Lonely

By Helen Welshimer
I know I shall be lonely just at first, Until your step grows fainter on the stair, And I have learned to look without swift tears Across the room at your dear, empty chair, I shall not want to be alone, now you Have said goodbye to me and gone so far, I must be brave, and never call you back, Nor think of you and wonder how you are.

I MUST forget—and that is hard to do, For you are part of all I have become, Yet I must walk as fearlessly as though We still kept step to some high-singing drum, But since the memory of all you were Stays in these rooms, I'll choose a strange, new place To put my books, my cups, in ordered rows, Beyond the ghost of your remembered face.

SOMEbody else will bring small treasures here, Take up new threads of life, love, hope, joy, pain, Dream by the fire, and maybe say goodbye, Be comforted with shelter from dark rain, And should you ever seek me down the years Whoever hears your knock will have to say That I have packed my trophies long ago, Turned in the key, dear heart, and gone away.

STILL AHEAD OF EUROPE

William Feather, Cleveland business man, returns from a trip to Europe with the remark that, in spite of the depression, "this country is living on a plane that Europe will be lucky to reach in another generation."

Compared with France, Germany, and England, he says, the ordinary man in the United States is living, if not a life of luxury, at least a life of comfort.

Conditions in England are better than those on the continent; but even there "the plain people do not know,
as they never have known, a living standard comparable to what we find here after five years of devastating depression."

Here is something worth remembering. It does no good, Heaven knows, to try to minimize the effects of the depression, to try to pretend that there has been little real hardship.

But it doesn't hurt to remember that, when all is said and done, we are still luckier than most people. The American standard of living is a heritage which even the depression hasn't wrecked.

IN LINE OF DUTY

The news that 137 doctors, nurses, and laboratory
workers in Los Angeles were stricken with infantile paralysis, during their fight against an outbreak of the disease, is a grim reminder of the fact that these people
very often undergo risks which the layman does not dream of, in their effort to save the lives of others.

In some epidemics the doctor and nurse can be protected by serums or vaccines. In others, however, there is no certain protection. Doctor and nurse must take their chances with everybody else—and, of course, by going into sickrooms daily, and undermining their resistance through overwork, they simply increase the danger to themselves.

It is a thing worth remembering. It is too easy to overlook the quiet unassuming heroism that members of the medical and nursing professions are constantly displaying, day after day, in the performance of their duties.

BREAKING A POOR CUSTOM

Mrs. Henry T. Rainey, widow of the late speaker of the House of Representatives, announces that she will not be a candidate for election to succeed her husband
—thus reversing a tendency which had become more and more noticeable in recent years.

In a great many cases, congressmen who have been removed from public life by death have been succeeded by their widows; and in some instances this has simply reflected a wave of sentimental sympathy on the part of the voters.

Such elections do small service to the cause of good government. It would be a bad thing if we came generally to accept the custom of putting widows in the line of succession. Mrs. Rainey does us a service by refusing to help establish that custom—although she herself,
having served as her husband's secretary, and knowing politics thoroughly, is better qualified than most women
to take a place in Congress.

ALCOHOL AND GAS

A Youngstown (O.) man, driving his car while police say he was under the influence of liquor, runs down and kills four little girls who were walking along an open highway. And if we needed any more proof of the adage that gasoline and alcohol don't mix, here it is—in tragic, terrible form.

We seem, so far, to be refusing to face the facts in connection with repeal just as stubbornly as we refused to face them in connection with prohibition for so many years.

If we are going to have the open and legal sale of intoxicants, we have simply got to find some way of keeping these intoxicants out of the people who are driving automobiles.

Perhaps we need to increase the size of our traffic patrol forces three or four-fold. Perhaps we need to make our traffic code about five times as strict as it is now. Perhaps we need to submit to far more stringent infringements on our personal liberty, in connection with the use of autos, than we ever had before.

Certain it is that we need something drastic. The people of the country simply will not stand tragedies
like this one at Youngstown much longer.

If the churches were as interested in preserving the sanctity of the Lord's Day as all Detroit and all St. Louis were in having their teams win the world series, how

The Croatians have no love for the Italians, nor do we desire to return to our old masters, Austria and Germany.—August Kosutich, leader of the outlawed Croat

The alligator who had upset the Tines and got them all wet, still kept hold of the youngsters boat
and dragged it up to shore.
"A very mean trick has been done," cried Doty. "We had better
run. That 'gator looks ferocious.
Gee, of him I want no more."
The other Tines splashed all around, and finally waded to dry ground. Then Scouty said, "I really think the whole thing was a joke."
"That 'gator doesn't look so very
mad. I will even bet that he'd be glad, if we would play with him a while. I will give the beast a little poke."

"Oh, do be careful," Goldy cried.
"Now, don't get too near to his side. He has a real strong tail, you know. He might swing it around."
"If hit, you would be hurt. I fear, and we know of no doctor near. Perhaps you'd better stay away. Then you'll be safe and sound."
However, Scouty was real brave.

He shouted, "Go ahead and rave,
but I am going to try to make good friends with the clumsy beast."
He then exclaimed, "Hello, old scout. You'd like to play with us, no doubt." The 'gator seemed to smile, and Scouty's interest increased.

While all the Tines held their breath, because they were nearly scared to death, wee Scouty hopped
aboard the beast. "Hey, giddy
ap," he cried.

The 'gator moved along a bit,
and Copy shouted, "Look at it!
I guess I will join Scouty on his dandy little ride."

He very quickly hopped aboard
as pretty Goldy loudly roared. "The beast seems quite all right now. He is peppy as can be."

"Stay on, you lads. If you don't mind, we will gladly trail along behind. We may be taken some place that we will all be very glad to see."

(The alligator disappears in the next story.)

FIRST TWENTY YEARS OF METHODISM

A very notable name is that of Mrs. Col. John Dement. Her husband was our hero of the Black-Hawk War, and held many important political offices during his long life, but I don't think he ever joined the church.

Mrs. Dement was the daughter of Governor Dodge of Wisconsin.
She married the Colonel in 1835
and came to Dixon to live. Their home was where the I. N. U. building is now.
Mrs. Dement was a lady of notable personality, rather large and
of great dignity and poise—an aristocrat by birth and by nature,
yet possessed of all the Christian virtues. The names of Col. and Mrs. Dement have been perpetuated in the beautiful memorial window on the north side of the church, and given by their children.

Their son was Henry Dodge Dement, for a long time Secretary of State for Illinois. Many of us knew Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Squires, their daughters.

Another of those we should also honor, who came as early as 1840
is W. W. Heaton.

Mr. Heaton came in 1840 and in 1841 and '42 we find him here as a young lawyer, teaching school.
He rose to the honorable position
of Chief Justice of the Appellate Court. He was three times married.
His second wife's death was from a sad accident, she having been thrown from her carriage against the steps of the old Methodist church, and killed. Her baby was saved and cared for some time
by Mrs. Everett.

Judge Heaton later married Mrs.
Lucinda McComsey, a lady much admired for her thoughtful kindnesses and many Christian virtues.
She brought up three sets of children together in peaceful amity,
so she must have had judgment
and force of character.

I remember Mrs. Heaton at church once when she could not find her pocket. The pockets then were sewed into a seam of the full skirts, and were very unobtrusive.

Mrs. Heaton, not finding hers easily, rose up in her pew and turned clear around, hunting for her porket. At last she cried out in despair, "Oh, Amelia, find my porket."

The one who counts third in years of membership was Mrs.
Fanny Dixon.

James P. Dixon and his wife, Fanny, were before mentioned as having been converted at the first revival meeting held by Mrs. John Dixon and Mrs. Talmadge.

Fanny Dixon was Fanny Reed
of Buffalo Grove. Her family arrived here the same day the Kellogg family did. Just before the Black-Hawk War broke out. Three times in three consecutive years, 1831-32-33, these two families had to flee from their homes to escape from the Indians.

After James Dixon and Fanny Reed were married in December of 1834, their first home was a log house on Main street, and here
their first baby, Henrietta, was born, June 30, 1836—the first white child born in Dixon. Later they lived in a house farther west on Main street. They had four daughters, Henrietta, who became the wife of Wm. Richards, Libbie, wife of Wm. Barge, Sarah, wife of Geo.
W. Goodwin and Susan, wife of Amos Goodwin. The Goodwins were early Methodists also. Sherwood Dixon, their son, is still remembered here as a very able attorney. Their other son, John,
moved to Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon became members of the church in 1843 and
Mr. Dixon was appointed a trustee.
He died in 1853. Mrs. Dixon outlived
her husband forty-five years.
Her death occurred in 1898.

One of the earliest families to settle in Lee Co. was that of Harvey Morgan, who settled in Sugar Grove in 1834. Though never a lawyer, he was the first Probate
Judge in Lee Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan were regular attendants of the Methodist church in Dixon and Mr. Morgan was for many years the teacher of the Ladies Bible Class in Sunday school, and a Steward of the church, also a class leader. They came to Dixon to live and one of the Dixon streets was named for Mr. Morgan.

Their home was the meeting
place of the Ladies Prayer Circle,
which was led by Mrs. J. R. Olin,
the widow of the prominent minister of the M. E. church. Mrs. Olin was also a teacher in the Sunday school, a lovely Christian lady, active in every good word and work.

Mrs. Sarah Johnson, who was so lately laid to rest at the age of ninety-two years, was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan.
She was a member of the church about seventy years. Unfortunately we have not the date of her joining.

Mr. Morgan died in 1880 and Mrs. Morgan in 1873.

We must content ourselves with
but a brief mention of the remaining names for the list grows with the years, and the danger of omission grows greater, also. If you find a chord missing in the harmony, please remember that after nearly one hundred years it is hard to get correct information, since even the grave stones are, many of them, fallen. We would not willingly omit the name of one of those brave and good people.

We find that James Hatch came in 1836 and was Dixon's first baker. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hatch were Methodists and it is told of Mrs.
Hatch that she weaned her own healthy baby in order to give nourishment to the very delicate child
of a sick neighbor.

Cyrus Williams and wife came from Canada as early as 1837.
They were the parents of Mrs.
Lemuel Mulkins and Mrs. Ira Lewis.

Others who came in 1837 were the four Hether brothers, Nathan,
Jesse, Hiram and John, also Wm.
Peacock and in 1838, I. D. McCour-sey.

In 1840 we find the names of John Courtright and Erastus Courtright, S. G. Holbrook and John Cluts, the first shoe maker.
He was the father of Mrs. Addie
Bovey and the brother of Auntie
Fred McKenney. He served as librarian of the first Sunday school.
Then there were in 1840 Joseph Brierion, whose home in the country had a watering trough by the side of the road, so that horses might drink and Le Grand Wyncoop, one of the builders of the first church. Of Mr. Brierion's descendants, there are living in Dixon at the present time, four grand daughters, Mrs. Herman Missman, Mrs. Minerva Phillips,
Mrs. John Missman and Mrs. Chas.
Garrison. James Campbell and Miss Annie Robbins were married by Mr. Hitchcock on the 4th of July 1940 in the old school house.
As soon as the ceremony was over
a canon boomed out congratulations. Miss Robbins came in 1838.
They had two daughters, Ophelia and Julia. Julia became the wife of Eugene Pinkney.

A. T. Murphy, father of the Misses Laura and Fanny Murphy came early in the 40's. Mr. Murphy owned his pew in the first church
having paid $350 for it. Mrs. Murphy, a sister of Jason Ayers never joined the church as she was a Unitarian but the family were regular attendants and Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were married in Chicago by Rev. Thos. North.

Mr. John Moore and his wife came from London in 1847. In London Mrs. Moore had belonged to the Wesleyan church and both became devoted members of our Dixon church and liberal contributors.
They were the grand parents of Mr. George Reed and the parents of John H. Moore so long connected with our city papers.

One of the most interesting of two early Methodist families was that of Chas. Edson, who came in 1839 and lived as first in South
Dixon. They are said to have had "combined graces of mind and heart with a kindness and benevolence that reached and touched all who came within their influence."
Mrs. Edson, in her old age, said of her children of whom there were six, "not one of them ever caused me a moment's shame or pain by any wrong doing." Mr. Edson was a trustee of the church and it is said of him that he helped to build the first church of which all his family were devoted and useful
members. The oldest daughter, Harriet, married Otis Eddy, a Methodist of 1847 and second a county judge.

The name of Eliza P. Sterling must not be omitted. She was the wife of Maj. James Sterling for whom the city of Sterling was named. They lived near Nelson and Mrs. Sterling never willingly missed a Sunday morning service of the church. There are those now living who remember her habit of saying, "Bless the Lord! Bless the Lord!"

Our ministers used to walk the five miles—a little less by the railroad track—every week to call on Mrs. Sterling after she was paralyzed. In 1887 she joined the hosts of Heaven, where she, I am sure,
is still saying "Bless the Lord!"

Now a word about our ministers
of the 40's and early 50's:
The only circuit rider after Mr.
Hitchcock was Philo Judson. Mr.
Judson was converted under the early ministry of Mr. Hitchcock in the east, and like Mr. Hitchcock, he filled the Dixon pastorate for two years from 1841 to 1843, succeeding him as circuit rider in their district and making his home
in Dixon. Like Mr. Hitchcock again, he was a foremost laborer
and filled many important posi-

70,000 Legionnaires Parade Among Palms

American Legionnaires representing every state in the Union and six territories put on their walking shoes to parade down palm-lined Biscayne Boulevard in Miami, Fla., as the climax event of the organization's 16th annual convention. Part of the 300 bands and 70,000 marchers are shown as they passed between the packed grandstands that lined the route.

tions in the church for over 50 years. He died in 1876.
After Mr. Judson the ministers serving the Dixon church one year
each were: William Wilson, David Brooks, S. P. Keys, Milton Haney
and R. W. B. int, one year together, R. F. Lawton, William Palmer, Thomas North, two years, and James Baume two years. Later Mr.
Baume went as a missionary to India. On one of the little stones in the old part of the cemetery we find the inscription

Ella Ruth
daughter of
Rev. James M. Baume
Died Sept. 2 1853
Age 3 Mo.

So it seems Mr. North and Mr.
Baume both suffered bereavement
while stationed in Dixon in those early and almost forgotten days.

It must have been with sad
hearts that they and their dear
wives left their little ones here alone, one in the Methodist burying lot and the other in a lot near by, but, as Mrs. E. C. Smith, Prof.
Smith's wife, said: There is no
more convincing proof of the reality of christian fortitude or the worth of christian character, than the story of the pioneer days of these people."

And here we must leave these

What the News Was Around Dixon in Years Gone By

50 YEARS AGO

Burglars visited Amboy Monday night and secured valuables and money to a considerable amount.
The residences of Mr. Beresford, Hill Pike and S. S. Meswin were entered. At Pikes about $200 worth of silverware was taken, at Beres-ford's a gold watch and chain and some money are missing, and Mr.
Meswin mourns the loss of an oy-

brave men and women and their dear children. They rest well, but much of the precious history of them and of our church is buried with the dead.

This may seem like rather a familiar narrative but to those I loved and those they loved it is affectionately inscribed.

ercoat and a number of small articles.

Grand Detour Plow shops, had his left hand badly cut while at his duties this morning.

INDE DISPLAY FINE FOOTBALL TAKING CLINTON

Large Crowd Astonished
at Class Shown by Dixon Team

The Dixon Independents, setting off heavy charges of football dynamite, blasted the Clinton Potots Bulldogs into the zero end of a 30 to 0 score yesterday afternoon at the Dixon airport gridiron.

A large crowd of spectators were astounded at the exhibition of powerful and clever football, rivaling, without any exaggeration, the brand of ball played by Big-Ten and national pro teams.

The Clinton eleven, last year's champions of the Tri-Cities pro circuit, in the first period showed flashes of championship pep, ripping and pounding through the Dixon line on several occasions, the majority of work being by Tork and Gearman. Dixon smashed their powerful opponents by scooping up several fumbles and had the ball safely in their possession as the first period ended.

Long Pass Good
In the second quarter Dixon turned the tide with a 35-yard pass from Daniels to Miller being completed to Clinton's 9 yard line. At this point, Clinton held Dixon for downs but their efforts were futile. The Indes again obtained the oval on the 23 yard stripe from which Dixon's surprise package, "Manders" Miller, completed a "dead-eye" place kick. In the closing minutes of the half, Miller, not content with a 23 yard place-kick, boosted a beauty from the 47 yard line as the half ended, 6 to 0 in Dixon's favor.

The third quarter was marked with long passes from Daniels to Miller and Potts, with Miller on one occasion, while doing some passing himself, finding the intended receiver boxed up and feeling the breath of nine men upon his throat, neatly sidestepping and running 24 yards to Clinton's 6 yard marker, from which Daniels plunged over his own right guard for the touchdown. Dixon converted the extra point. In the following minutes of play, MacDonald blocked a punt on Clinton's 10 yard line which was scooped up by Potts who ran it over for the second touchdown of the day. "Manders" Miller place-kicked for the extra point.

Teams Took to Air
The remainder of the contest was an aerial battle with Windmiller doing a neat job of intercepting and breaking up Clinton's attacks, with Potts, Daniels, Miller and Windmiller doing the aerial, offensive work and Wolford ripping Clinton's line asunder on running plays.

The battle ended with the ball in Clinton's possession on their 45 yard line. Final score: Dixon 20, Clinton 0.

ILLINOIS-ARMY GAME SATURDAY BIG 10 FEATURE

Game is Expected to Draw 50,000 Fans
to Champaign

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A pair of undefeated records will be at stake Saturday when Illinois and Army meet in an intercollegiate football battle that is expected to attract 50,000 persons to Memorial Stadium.

The battle will be the highlight of a Dad's Day program for fathers of Illinois students and will mark the last meeting of the two teams unless Western Conference rules are revised.

Illinois players came out of their victorious 7 to 6 game with Michigan intact except for the usual bruises and will devote their time this week to work on defensive measures aimed at halting the vaunted Cadet running attack that has dazzled the east this season.

The Illini "flying trapeze" passing attack will also be stressed this week and an effort made to get these plays in perfect working order for the Army invasion. The Illinois attack through the air caught the Cadets completely off guard last year at Cleveland. But was not sufficiently successful to defeat the Military Academy eleven in the 6 to 0 struggle.

Zupke's aerial strategy backfired on him in the Michigan game when the Wolverines scored their touchdowns on Zupke's "flea-flicker" play that he hauled out of the moth balls last year after using it successfully several seasons ago.

CONTENDERS ON NATION'S GRIDS CROSS FINGERS

This Week's Games to Ruin Title Hopes of Many Teams

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Fingers crossed, college football's championship contenders took stock of the situation today before plunging into the second half of the 1934 campaign.

Although titles in most sections will be subject to debate right up to the close of the season, well-delineated favorites have risen all along the line.

Prospects for this week are about as follows:

East:
Army, Navy, Dartmouth, Princeton and Syracuse alone remained undefeated and untied among major teams and all face possible trouble this week. Army travels west for an encounter with Illinois another outfit with a perfect record, and Navy tackles dangerous Washington and Lee. Princeton collides with Harvard for the first time since their break in 1926, while Dartmouth comes up against its prize jinx, Yale, a team the Indians never have beaten. Syracuse plays Penn State which rapidly is returning to its former high place in eastern football. Other outstanding contests find Fordham, beaten by St. Mary's and Southern Methodist, facing Tennessee; Pitt's Panthers meeting Notre Dame, and George Washington playing host to Vanderbilt. Holy Cross and Temple, Columbia and Cornell, New York University and Carnegie and Penn and Lafayette, are among the purely "domestic" pairings.

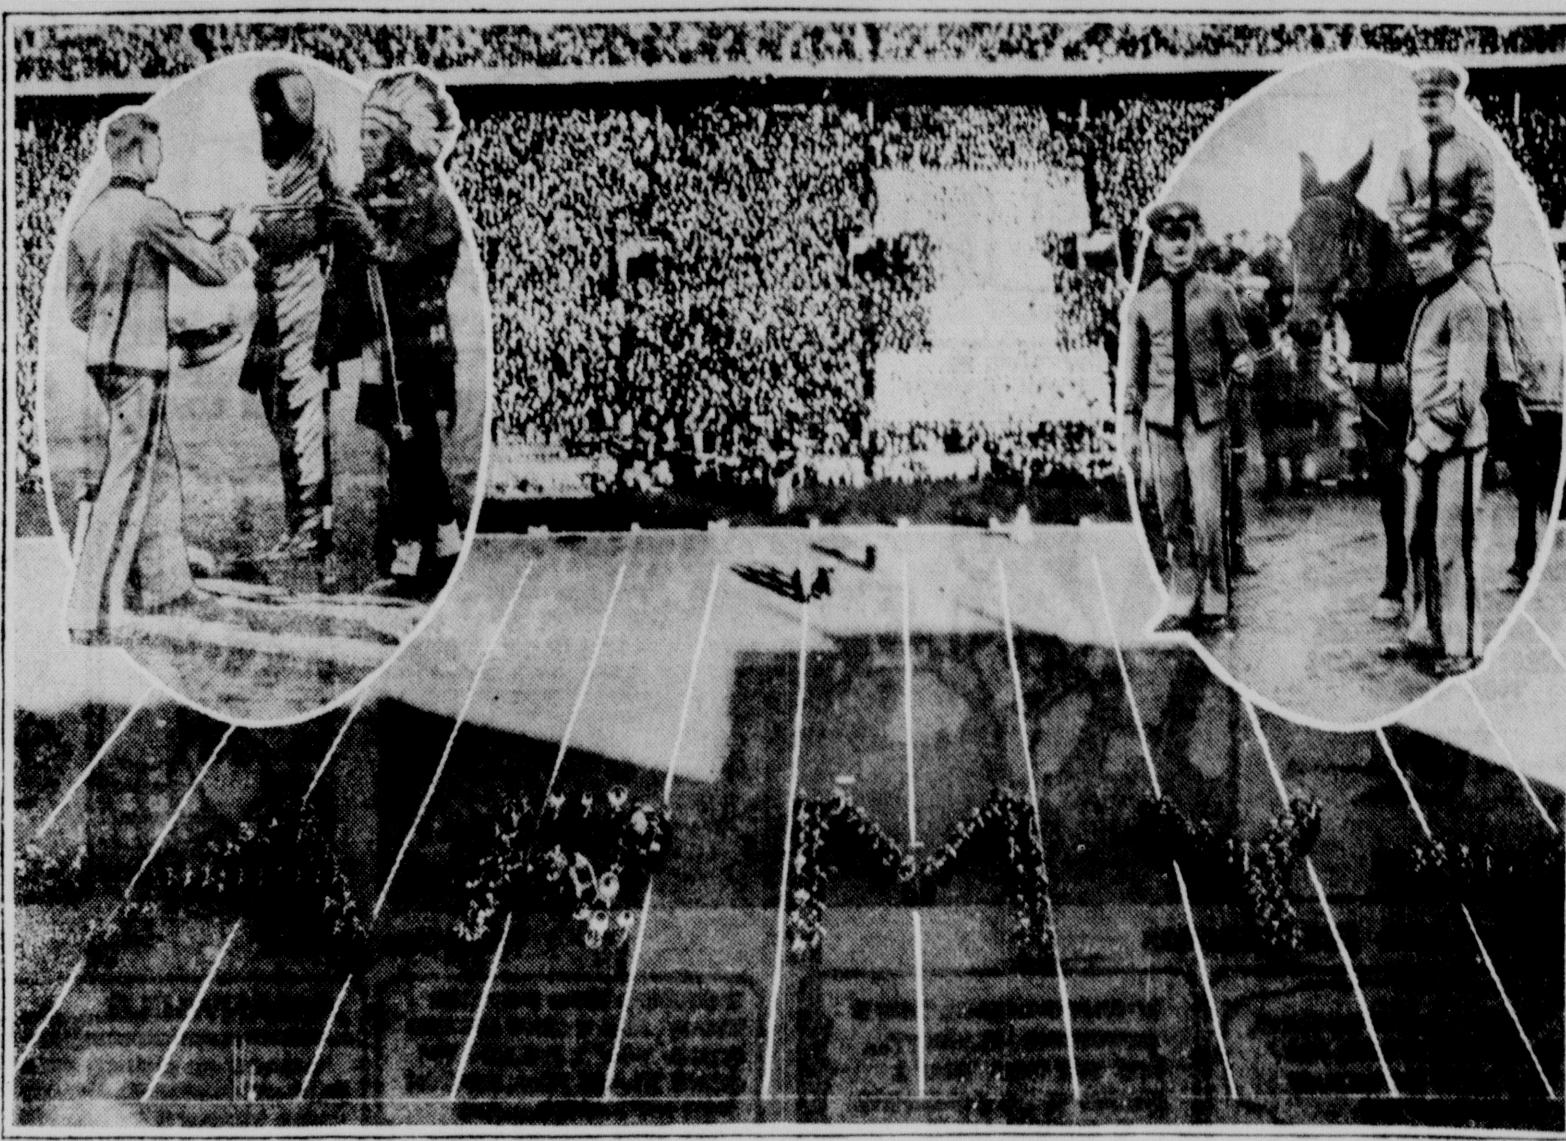

Midwest:
Minnesota, Illinois, Chicago and Purdue are the only teams undefeated in Big Ten competition, with Minnesota the stand-out. The powerful Gophers play Michigan this week while Chicago and Purdue square off in the duel that will make or break. The Indiana-Iowa and Northwestern-Wisconsin games complete the conference schedule. Nebraska, which just about clinched the Big Six title by posing out Iowa State, is idle this week but Oklahoma meets Missouri, and Iowa State tackles Kansas. Michigan State, an undefeated and untied independent, finds Marquette next on the list. Detroit entertains Oklahoma A. & M.

South:
Alabama, Louisiana State and Tulane, the leaders, continue Southeastern Conference play and all will be heavy favorites to win. Kentucky furnishes the opposition for Alabama, Mississippi state for Louisiana State, and Mississippi for Tulane. Florida and Georgia are booked for the remaining conference engagement. In the Southern Conference, Duke, Washington and Lee, Virginia, North Carolina and North Carolina State are unbeaten although the latter pair tied last week. Virginia and North Carolina State play dangerous conference rivals on Saturday, the former meeting Maryland and the latter Clemson. South Carolina and Virginia Poly clash in the other conference game while Duke is tackling Auburn and North Carolina deploys against Georgia Tech.

Far West:
The situation is unchanged in this section with Stanford, Washington and Washington State as the contenders. Stanford, facing U. C. L. A., and Washington, playing Oregon State, continue their conference schedule this week while Washington State confronts the strong non-conference array of St. Mary's Gaels in a Friday game. The Oregon-Montana match completes the conference schedule. California being arrayed against undefeated Santa Clara, an independent.

Southwest:
Rice seems to be sitting in the driver's seat as the result of the Owls' triumph over Texas. While the leaders enjoy a "breather" against Texas A. & L. the other six conference teams will be paired off against one another—Texas against Southern Methodist, Arkansas against Texas A. & M., and

WHEN ILLINI CHIEF IS HOST TO ARMY MULE

This gives an idea of the colorful background that will be the setting for the Army-Illinois football game in the Illinois stadium Saturday. The famous Illinois band of 160 pieces is shown in its "Army" formation in 1929 when the thrilling battle with the Cadets was witnessed by 69,000 persons, a capacity crowd. The insets show "Chief Illinwek" in the traditional pipe of peace ceremony with Army's representative and the famous Army mule with his gray-clad custodians. Although the largest crowd in five years will throng to the stadium, C. E. Bowen, ticket manager, reassures that plenty of seats on the sides of the playing field are available.

GOPHERS HOPE TO TAKE BROWN JUG SATURDAY

Have Expectations of Defeating Wolverines
This Year

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Oscar Munson has polished up a spot in the Minnesota trophy race to receive the most famous of Big Ten gridiron souvenirs, the "little brown jug." Oscar expects the spot to be filled Saturday.

Munson, who rejoices in the title of "custodian of equipment" at Minnesota, has prepared a place for the trophy a number of times, but usually, Michigan, which runs into the roaring giants of the north Saturday at Minneapolis, spoiled his plans. Oscar started the tradition way back in 1906 when he ran off with a Wolverine water jug and refused to give it back until Michigan defeated Minnesota.

Since then, Oscar has had his beloved jug only twice, in 1919 and 1927.

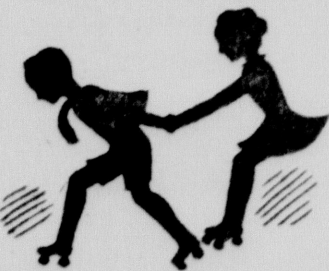

Michigan Specialty
Michigan has made a specialty of upsetting what appeared to be superior Minnesota events. This is the season, Portsmouth, Ohio, and trounced the Cincinnati Reds, 38 to 0. The Bears scored in every period to defeat their old rivals, the Green Bay Packers, 27 to 14.

The Bears entertain the New York Giants, leaders of the eastern division, next Sunday, while the Lions are at home to the Pittsburgh Pirates. Green Bay plays at Boston, Cincinnati goes to Philadelphia, and the Chicago Cardinals tackle Brooklyn, in the other games.

Once more Ken Strong, with two touchdowns, a field goal and two bonus points, headed the Giants as they defeated Philadelphia, 17 to 9. Brooklyn earned a 21 to 3 victory over Pittsburgh. The Boston Redskins turned in a 9 to 0 victory over the Cardinals.

HUEY LONG MAY BE NEW YEAR'S ROSE BOWL HERO

Showman Senator is Mas-cote to L. S. U. Football Team

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Football-minded Baton Rouge, groggy after a week end extravaganza of fun as the guest of Huey Long, today began talking about Louisiana State University's football team as a possible Rose Bowl contender with the "Kingfish" as an added attraction.

They were thinking about the spectacular game they saw L. S. U.'s team play in defeating Vanderbilt Saturday at Nashville, Tennessee, 29 to 0.

The Cadet band of 150 pieces, the 1,500 strong uniformed Corps and hundreds of other students saw the Nashville game because the Senator got up five special trains and took them at his own expense.

Fans argued that if their team goes through the rest of its difficult schedule undefeated and then has Huey Long to offer as an added crowd gatherer, Rose Bowl officials will think twice before picking some other squad for the New Year's Day classic.

California Interested
Out in California, the fans began to indicate they might relish seeing L. S. U., especially if the team could promise to bring along the versatile Senator who "packed 'em in" at the Vanderbilt game and put on a show through three states never equalled before.

L. S. U. has already defeated Auburn, Arkansas and Vanderbilt, but

Living Our Everyday Lives

MY RELIGION

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton)
Before I was born my religion
slept warm in the heart of my ill-
literate mother, giving her ideals of life and love and service which made my home a place of strength and beauty.

In the wonder-years of infancy
my widowed mother found in her religion help to fight bravely for her home, in face of bitter poverty
and my first memory of her is when she prayed.

My religion enriched my childhood with the romance of faith, a sense of the divine meaning of life, and the lesson which it taught me have been woven into the very texture of my soul.

If, sometimes, I seem to have forgotten, and have been tempted to follow false and futile ideals of my religion has rebuked my folly, and brought me back to the way of wisdom.

In the stress and storm of youth,
when life was chaotic and uncertain, and I did not know my way or work in the world, my religion
guided the beat of my blood and guided my footsteps by lifting my eyes toward the stars, where there is clear light shining.

When first my heart knew the strange, sweet awakenings of love,
my religion taught me to chasten
my affections. It sanctified my marriage and blessed my home
with its benediction.

Aye, when my heart was seamed
with sorrow, and I wept over little folded hands, and it seemed as if the sun could never shine any more, my religion drew me to the Friend of the Weary, and whispered to me hope of another morning, radiant and tearless.

When my little mother fell into a still white sleep, and her glorious eyes were closed, my religion made
the unknown world familiar, home
like, and near, because she had entered there.

In those hours when my feet
have slipped, and I have known the brief bitter bliss of sin, my religion believed in me, and called me back to live within the heights of my better self.

At the end-time, when death
the dumb hour brings the dreams
about my couch my religion will lead the way and lift the Shadow.

a line plunge from approximately the 3 yard line. His placement for the extra point was blocked by Dubbs of Mendota. Rebeck scored the second Dixon touchdown from the four yard marker in the early stages of the fourth quarter, after a march from the 30 yard line executed by Boyd, Underwood and Rebeck. Underwood's pass to Boyd for the point was incomplete.

DeKalb Is Next
Next week Dixon meets DeKalb on the Dixon Gridiron to decide which team is going to be the North Central champs. Neither has been defeated so far this season in conference games.

First Quarter
Underwood's placement carried

Underwood's placement earned over the Mendota goal. Guilfoyle fell on the ball in back of the goal which gave Mendota possession of the pigskin on their own 20 yard line. On the first play of the game Shapiro, shifty Mendota back picked up 5 yards over left tackle.

Stultz and Evans hit him so hard that the ball flew from his hands. Stultz recovered for Dixon on the Mendota 20 yard line. Rebutka went over center for a one yard gain. Underwood fumbled the ball on an attempt over right tackle. Faber recovered for Mendota. Shapiro gained 10 yards between right tackle and end. Klein stopped Tower on an attempted run around left end. Cruthoff stopped Guilfoyle on the line of scrimmage. Stultz stopped Fabor on the line. Tower punted from his 10 yard line to his own 40. Hessenberger downed the ball. Underwood was stopped on the line of scrimmage by Dubbs. Underwood gained 9 yards around left end.

Rebuck was stopped on the line of scrimmage. Boyd went through right tackle for first down. Boyd was stopped on the line of scrimmage on a triple pass. Underwood went around right end for a 10 yard gain. Boyd's attempt to plunge over right tackle was stopped on the line. Boyd gained 3 yards around right end. Dixon off-sides, 5 yard penalty. Rebeck's pass to Klein was good for 10 yards. Rebuck picked up a yard over center. Boyd gained 6 yards over right guard. Underwood stopped on the line of scrimmage. Underwood's attempt placement from the 25 yard line was wide of the goal posts. Mendota's ball on their own 20 yard line. Tower gained 3 yards.

tact one of the boys who took a pint of whisky up to his room. I remember, the boy asked me for an okay on him."

THE bell boy grinned confidently. "Of course," he said, "that's just between you and me, chief."

Griff nodded.

The bell captain departed and was back within less than five minutes.

"I've got him located for you," he said. "His name is Harry Fancher and he lives at 3692 Kenwood avenue, Millvale. At any rate, that's the address he gave on the register."

Fancher led the way into the house, his slippers sliding along the floor. He waved a hand at a chair in the sitting room.

"I'm sorry," he said, "the room looks like this. It's just the way it was left when I went to bed last night. I do quite a bit of reading and research work, and I'm not always tidy about putting my books back."

Griff surveyed the littered table and picked up one of the trade magazines at random.

"You're an inventor, I believe," he said.

"Well," Fancher said, "I do know as you could call me that."

Sidney Griff looked at his watch. "A night drive," he said, "would bring me into Millvale just about daylight."

The bell boy regarded him curiously.

"It would if," he said, "be a long way to go if the man had given a phone address. Lots of them do, you know."

Sidney Griff nodded thoughtfully. He handed the boy another $5 bill. He went to the telephone booth and put through a call for the police headquarters at Millvale. Within 10 minutes he had them on the line.

"You have a city directory there, as well as a register of voters?" he asked. "This is Sidney Griff, the criminologist."

"What is it you want?" asked a gruff voice at the other end of the line.

"I want to find out whether you have a Harry Fancher registered in town, what his occupation is, and where he lives."

"Hold the line," said the voice, while the criminologist waited.

"I'm a thinker. I like to think with things."

"Did you know Frank B. Cathers of Riverview?" asked Griff.

THERE WAS A flicker of fire in the meek brown eyes.

"He had me come on a wild goose chase all the way to the city," Fancher remarked. "If he did want to finance my invention, he wouldn't say so in the first place. Why did he go to the trouble of writing me a letter and telling how wonderful he thought my invention was, and then fail to keep the appointment he made with me?"

"He wrote you?" asked Griff.

"Yes."

"Have you his letter available?" Griff inquired.

"Why, yes, I think so."

"I wonder if I could see it?" Fancher's slippery feet were shuffling sounds as he crossed to the writing desk. He opened the door and turned to the criminologist.

"Here it is," he said.

Griff took the letter and

After a moment the voice came over the wire.

"Yes, there's a Harry Fancher registered. He lives at 3692 Kenwood avenue, and he's an inventor and machinist."

"Thank you," said Griff, and hung up.

HARRY FANCHER, attired in towseled pajamas, with his hair in wild disarray, regarded Sidney Griff with mock brook eyes. "Did I give you up?" asked Griff, smiling indulgently.

Harry Fancher nodded his head, then added after a moment, "I'm sorry."

Griff raised his eyebrows. "Fancher wouldn't on to explain."

"I shouldn't have slept so late," he said. "Usually I'm up earlier but, this being Sunday morning, I stayed in bed."

Griff regarded the man with curious, speculative eyes.

"I am the one who should make the apologies," he said, "for disturbing you at this hour. But I drove all night in order to get here—that is, the best part of the night."

"To see me?" asked Fancher, raising his brows.

"Exactly," Sidney Griff agreed. "Won't you come in?"

Fancher continues his story, solving a pretty brunet and roadster, in the next installment.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Frank R. Catlow

Governor Henry Horner Praises State and Dixon Aviation Backers Sunday

Chief Executive of the State Speaks at the Airport Fete

Following is the address delivered by Gov. Henry Horner, principal speaker at the dedication of the Dixon Municipal Airport Sunday afternoon:

"This celebration today marks another step forward in the history of aviation, to which Illinois has so enthusiastically contributed, and it is my happy privilege as your Governor to join with you and officially dedicate Dixon Municipal Airport."

"By assembling here, we, as representatives of the citizenship of our great progressive State of Illinois, pay tribute to, and heartily thank, those whose untiring efforts have wrought this accomplishment—this airport—to keep your city and our state in the front ranks as the nation advances in science, industry, and agriculture. This achievement comes after almost a year of strenuous work by your local officials and civic minded citizens, the Illinois Aeronautics Commission, the Illinois CWA and our most beneficent and helpful federal government."

"We view here now, as an accomplished fact—an adequate municipal airplane landing place. But your work is not wholly done. The extent to which your new airport may be used is largely up to your own community, and the task now is to further advance by attracting as much air traffic here as possible, local and general aviation interests and the flying public. Great cities of our nation may trace their development to the fact that they were founded along navigable waters, or that they became principal railroad centers. There is no reason why your city should not further develop in influence and growth through the avenue of the air."

"By sunset today we will have dedicated nine new airports in Illinois. Last Sunday appropriate and extensive celebrations were held at Marion, Harrisburg, Danville, Peoria and Springfield when we formally opened and dedicated their new and improved municipal airports, and today we are formally opening municipal ports at Quincy, Dixon, Bloomington and Joliet. With our great airports in the Chicago area, the downstate landing fields make up a network of aviation centers on a par with any in the Nation. Our airports are not only numbered among the best, but among the busiest in the Nation. Within the borders of our state, all the great commercial airlines operate."

"Aviation is here to stay. Its usefulness, its speed, its dependability have been proved time and again to the world. It has been vividly impressed on me on this trip, for in no other way could I have covered even one-third of the territory of this day's itinerary in the same length of time. You will all learn that fact eventually. America is air-minded, and you may be assured of the assistance of the state of Illinois in your efforts to further develop your airport and increase the use of this wonderful method of transportation."

"We of this administration have been earnestly interested in the cause of aviation. In fact, for more than twenty-five years, I have believed it would come to be in general use for transportation of goods and persons. The best contribution I have made to the cause of aviation in this state is the selection of L. P. Bonfoey of Quincy, as the Chairman of the Illinois Aeronautics Commission. He's the best bargain the state ever made. He's headed the movement on the development of the eleven new municipal airports in Illinois—and he has done a real job for aviation. His chief reward from the state is that we allow him to pay out of his own pocket and from his personal funds, for his own gas and pilot and the upkeep of his plane. While as Governor, I have the honor of dedicating this airport, yet the real credit for these recent municipal airport accomplishments in Illinois belongs to many others, including Chairman Bonfoey, and the Bureau of Air Commerce of the Federal Government and your own local officials. All of them have joined heartily and harmoniously in the enterprise. I am mighty happy to commend here our entire State Aeronautics Commission, including its secretary, Elwood Cole. Every one of the members thereof has been unfailing in his devotion to the cause of aviation. I will match the work of the Illinois Commission with any other State Commission in the Union—and its expense has been reduced to an almost unbelievable minimum. We have thirty inspectors throughout the state—almost all pilots of long experience and all serving without any compensation whatsoever except the satisfaction of aiding the development and safeguarding of aviation in our state. We have operated in close cooperation with the Federal Aviation Bureau. Our own commission, in turn, has the cooperation of the various branches of the State government, including the commerce commission, state highway police, the Public Welfare Department and the county sheriffs and police officers all throughout the state, and we are now engaged in a general educational program on aviation through out Illinois."

"When the announcement of a Federal airport program was first made in November, 1933, I requested Mr. Bonfoey to go to Washington in the interests of our Illinois airports. You see here one visualization of his success."

Improved Key Fields

As further evidence of the real soundness of his judgment, Illinois, contrary to the practice followed by many states, devoted her efforts to the establishment and improvement of her key fields. While some states sent in many more projects than were feasible, we submitted eleven, but each of those eleven was approved by the Federal government and each was based on the requirements for the operation of any type aircraft now in use. As a result of this foresight, we are not toying with a large number of small fields, thousands of which are ever available as emergency landing places throughout Illinois, but we are happy to have a dozen efficient municipal airports to the credit of our state at this time."

"Illinois' judgment was vindicated in Washington at the time of the transition from CWA to Emergency Relief Administration. We were one of the first states, if not the first state in the Union, to have its airport program fully approved in the spring of this year. Those communities where activity on their airport projects was not resumed, have themselves to blame and not any lack of help from the State or Federal agencies."

"It would be unjust if I did not express my sincere appreciation to the representatives of the Federal Bureau of Air Commerce some of whom are present today and other departments of the Federal government for their immeasurable help, their cooperation and their guidance and interest from the very beginning."

Had Double Purpose

"The new airports were advocated as a means of relieving unemployment and also keeping Illinois in the front rank of aviation progress. They were made possible through municipal appropriations and agreements which made available to the cities Federal and CWA grants and funds applied by the State Relief Commission for the purchase of its paid work program throughout the state. The building program, while providing the cities with modern airports, has given work to thousands of persons."

"Should the type of work we have employed on these Illinois municipal airports, be again available in the coming months, we expect to apply for the improvement of some additional strategically located airports."

"The Illinois legislature adopted, at its last general session, a new Aeronautics law, creating the present Aeronautics Commission, and making sane and efficient provision for the promotion and control of aviation in this state. It is to our great satisfaction that at the national conference of state aviation officials, held at Cheyenne, Wyoming, last month, the aeronautics law of Illinois was recommended to every other state in the union as the basis for a uniform aeronautics code."

State-Wide Program

"In conjunction with the airport effort, we now are launching a state-wide uniform air marking program. Under this plan, it is proposed that at least one city in each county will be air marked. The information and guidance thus provided will be of untold assistance to the transient flyer."

"I congratulate you who have made possible this municipal airport in your city, that you have associated yourself in name and fame with aviation—one of the greatest adventures that has caught the imagination of the centuries."

"From the dawn of civilization, men yearned to fly and in their imagination sought to rival the free and graceful movements of the birds. The mystery of flight engaged the brilliant minds not only of modern, but of medieval history. Leonardo De Vinci, that fearless painter of the 15th century, could turn passionately from his mastery of line and color, and for weeks shut himself in his house, intent upon his futile plans and calculations for the huge-ribbed wings with which he hoped to soar aloft."

"No record written by man in his quest to conquer is more absorbing than the romance of the air."

Wild Dreams True

"From the point of time a century and a half ago, when man first ascended into the air by balloon to the more recent achievement of piloting a heavier-than-air machine through the atmosphere at the almost incredible speed of 435 miles an hour—the accomplishment of a non-stop record of more than 5,000 miles, and an altitude record of almost 45,000 feet, mankind's wildest dreams in the fight for mastery of the air have come true."

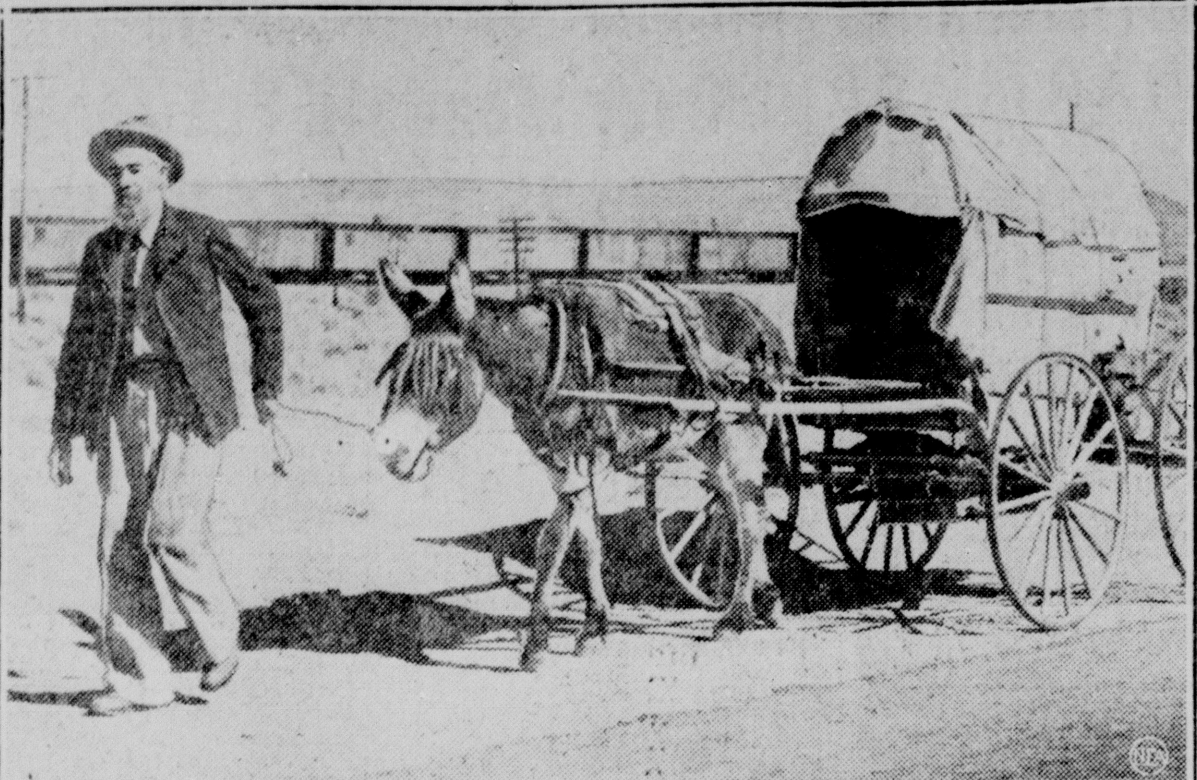

"During the lifetime of most of us who are here today, the conquest of the air has been won. We have seen the perfection of the airplane, the autogyro, the gyroplane, the Zeppelin and the dirigible, until the skies above all nations are literally cluttered with the aircraft of the conquerors of the heights. I indeed congratulate you in keeping abreast of the wave of air travel and transportation that is sweeping across the world."

"Would there were here today those sturdy souls of a bygone era—those intrepid men and women who blazed the pioneer trails of Illinois, settled its prairies, cleared its wildernesses, founded and built its cities and towns—would they were here to witness this splendid climax of progressive, civic-mindedness. When the creaking wheels of their canvas-covered wagons rumbled slowly toward the vague uncharted horizon a century ago, to be followed by the stagecoach, the railroad and the automobile—they sowed the seed for the inventive geniuses and brave pilots of the air who, tolling courageously and very brilliantly through the years, conceived, produced and rendered practicable that new mode of transportation for which this field has been so excellently prepared."

Praised Hangar

"Dixon, in the past, has enjoyed the reputation of having one of the best non-terminal airports on the entire transcontinental airway. With this new municipal development, far surpassing the old, the fame of your city should extend even farther throughout the state and nation. While your old field was lacking in hangar space and facilities for the public, you now have a splendid new hangar which will accommodate the largest of planes. Of particular interest is the type of construction of this hangar, built, as it is, of old steel rails. This pioneering in the field of engineering may open up an entirely new use for this material and, at the same time, provide an inexpensive type of construction for buildings of this type."

And if he's thinking about the economic uplift, it's probably only so far as the prices of beans, bacon, and donkey feed are concerned.

"With the expenditure of $49,000.00 of Federal money by September first of this year and provision made for $20,000.00 more, many of your citizens have been supplied with work and many mouths have been fed over a period of nearly a year. Aside from the relief benefits attained, your city now can point with pride to a development of outstanding beauty and utility. You have an airport that will accommodate any type plane now in use and because of your strategic location close to the transcontinental airway, you should have many transient planes take advantage of these splendid facilities."

"As automobile traffic follows the improved highways, so does aerial traffic follow those airways which offer the best in landing and servicing facilities for aircraft, and comfort and convenience for the passengers."

"While we are here to dedicate this municipal airport, no formal words of mine are necessary to that end. Much more eloquent is the presence of this vast assemblage whose appearance here on this occasion indicates a whole-some air-mindedness of the people of this locality."

"Together we hail this occasion and dedicate this airport as an indicator of the progressiveness of this community. We dedicate it as an encouragement and attraction to air traffic. We dedicate it to the brave men and women pilots of the air, both living and dead, whose irresistible spirit of daring and adventure and service and whose fearlessness and devotion to the cause have made air travel an important element of modern civilization, and have brought to aviation its marvelous progress and success. We today dedicate this municipal airport to the service of mankind."

In bidding you goodbye, may I express my sincere appreciation at being privileged to participate in the dedication of this great civic monument, and for the gracious reception which you have accorded our entire party. No words of mine could possibly equal the eloquence of your presence and your enthusiastic spirit."

Brakeman Awarded Medal for Heroism: Saved Girl Aged 5

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 2.—(AP)—James R. Stirnes, 39, Granville, Ill., lost a foot at Granville No. 13, 1933 when he defied death to snatch his five-year-old niece from under the wheels of a train.

Yesterday his heroism won him a bronze medal from the Carnegie hero fund commission.

The child, Dorothy Stirnes, slipped and fell on the tracks, as a train was approaching. Stirnes, a brakeman, ran 27 feet to pick her up, but as he did so a car hit him and hurled him under the train. His right foot had to be amputated, but Dorothy was uninjured.
